International Disaster Relief: Kerala Flood Relief & Indonesia Earth Quake/ Tsunami Relief

Even a month after Kerala witnessed an unprecedented deluge in August, considered to be the worst in the last 100 years, several people are still in relief camps in the state. IMHO through our local partner on the ground Sawed Trust contributed $5,000 to help with the relief efforts transporting and distributing the necessary supplies.

IMHO donated $2,500 to Americares which was responding to the 7.5-magnitude earthquake that generated a deadly tsunami on the Indonesian island of Sulawesi. The earthquake devastated the island toppling buildings and destroyed roads while a towering 20-foot wave washed over coastal communities in September, killing people and forcing several thousand from their homes.

Livelihood Project for the Resettled ID Families in the North & East of Sri Lanka - An Update

IMHO in collaboration with Assist RR (ARR), a registered NGO in UK has been raising funds to buy fishing boats, engines, and nets benefitting about 60 fishing community families from the war affected areas.

A boat, engine, and fishing nets together cost about $3,800. IMHO and ARR will share the costs which will be $1,900 (£1,400 approximately) per unit. This grant (50%) will be matched by the Sri Lankan Ministry of Resettlement with a soft loan for the remaining 50%. Altogether about $165,000 including 50,000 British Pounds by Assist RR, our partner on the ground, has been collected from donors to implement the project expected to begin by mid-November after working out the logistics. Considering the successful implementation of the Sampoor project benefitting the needy fishing families, this project should be helpful for a sustainable livelihood to the poor and disadvantaged beneficiaries.
